Yanks Push Shell 3 Cities into Rennes In E. Prussia

By GLADWIN HILL

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS, Aug. 3 (AP)—Lt. Gen. Omar N. Bradley's armored columns opened a wedge 30 miles deep and 35 miles broad in the heart of Brittany today, while Canadian forces began a new attack below Caen.

Frontline reports said Bradley's armor had reached Rennes and the outskirts of Dinan in Brittany after drives of 45 and 35 miles, respectively, from Avranches. These distances had been covered in approximately in two days.

St. Malo, important port across the bay from Avranches, apparently was being bypassed. Rennes, central communications point of Brittany, is only 80 miles north of Brittany's second port, St. Nazaire.

PLANES LASH NAZIS

Lashing out with a new attack, supported by another of the Allies' smashing aerial and artillery bombardments which saturated the area of attack with steel and fire, Canadian troops struck in the Tilly-le-Campagne area below Caen.

It is in this area that British staff officers said yesterday the Germans must stand and fight with the prospect of being destroyed.

German armor milled about in the area yesterday, apparently in a state of confusion as to where to go. A deep penetration into the valleys below Caen from the Canadian sector, a dispatch pointed out, would cut across the German's communications and "result in final disaster for the enemy's campaign in the whole of the west of France."

Rocket-carrying Typhoons laid the whip-lash to the confused enemy armor yesterday, sending 18 tanks in flaming destruction, damaging 19 more and destroying or damaging 126 other vehicles.

American fighter bombers over Bradley's columns smashed 32 more German tanks and more than 800 other staff cars, half-tracks, trucks, motorcycles and buses.

2 DIVISIONS FACE TRAP
In the Roncey-Gavary area, inside a 20 by 16-mile area between Avranches and Vire where at least two German armored divisions were faced with threat of entrapment, the roads were so cluttered with broken German transport that American bulldozers were put into action to clear the highways.

A British spearhead was driven into the center of the 60-mile pocket below Caen, its tip reaching within 2000 yards of Aunay below Villers-Bocage.

The British were at the edge of Villers-Bocage itself, one of the chief German strongholds.

Vire itself, one of Normandy's prime communications centers, fell under Allied control, with British troops in its streets, front dispatches reported. An American column driving up from the southwest reached St. Pons, 10 miles away.

The invasion of France now has rolled into its 59th day with at least 85,000 prisoners among casualties inflicted on the Germans.

Pisa, Florence Battles Still On

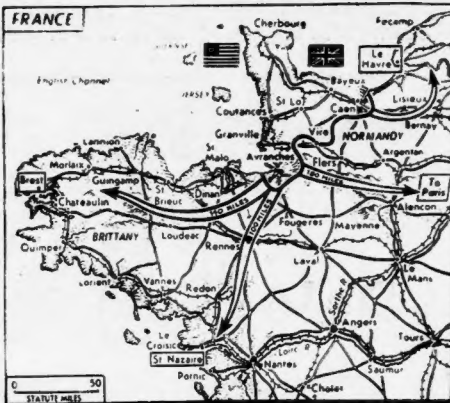

By NOLAND NORGARD

ROME, Aug. 3 (AP)—The Fifth Army has broken German efforts to send counter-attacking forces across the Arno River on both sides of besieged Pisa near Italy's west coast.

Eighth Army units were making fresh dents in the Nazi defense ring around Florence. Attacking north from San Michele and La Romola, Eighth Army units captured the commanding heights of La Poggiona, five and a half miles southwest of the historic art city.

West of Florence British and Indian troops crossed the Poso River on a two-mile bridgehead and advanced a mile.

Headquarters received reports the Nazis were clearing civilians from stretches of the north bank of the Arno east and west of Florence.

FRANCE—As Canadians open new drive below Caen, Yank tank forces are reported to have reached Rennes, 45 miles below Avranches, and to be in outskirts of Dinan, a 35-mile advance.

Yanks Win 7th Mariana Drome

By Associated Press

Americans tightening the noose on some 10,000 Japanese pressed into the northern third of Guam have seized another airfield, bringing to seven the nest of Marianas dromes from which U. S. aerial might may soon strike into Japan's vitals from the Pacific.

Army and Marine troops, killing seven enemy soldiers for every one they lost, pushed tirelessly forward against rising resistance. But the end of the enemy seemed as sure as on conquered Tinian, where all but a handful of Japanese, hiding in caves, were accounted for.

Tinian's Japanese civilians streamed willingly out of caves to surrender.

Adm. Nimitz announced his forces had killed about 33,000 of the enemy on Guam, Tinian and Saipan, against a loss of 3589 American dead, 17,548 wounded and 1550 missing.

The captured fighter strip, near Guam's center, fell Tuesday. Like the other Marianas Islands airfields taken it is within 1500 miles of the Philippines, the China coast and Japan, a distance negotiable by Superfortresses.

Gen. MacArthur's forces on New Guinea, far to the south, turned back two more frenzied Japanese attempts to break free of the Allied trap near Aitape.

The big Japanese offensive in the Philippines, the China coast and Hengyang still held out. The Chinese, besieged for five weeks, threw back 10 enemy attempts to crack into the inner parts of the city. To the north, east, Chungking reported, the enemy made sharp gains, strengthening its eastern anchor of the drive down both sides of the Hankow-Canton railway, the prize at stake.

U. S. planes kept up their furious, ceaseless attacks on the stretched-out Jap supply lines. British troops quickened pursuit of the Japanese fleeing India via the Tiddin road into Burma. Chinese and Americans, fighting bitterly in the mud and rain of North Burma, dug out more Japanese, defending Myitkina.

Robot Bombs Rip 7 Hospitals

By TOM YARBROUGH

LONDON, Aug. 3 (AP)—Flying bombs droned over southern England and London this afternoon in continuation of an unbroken assault—the longest attack yet without a lull. Anti-aircraft gunners in southern England maintained almost continuous barrage.

Some robots were reported destroyed over the English Channel.

Seven hospitals were hit, 10 patients being killed at one, and explosions covered a wide area. One bomb wrecked a big house 50 yards from a shopping area crowded with women and it was feared—in the permissible phrase—"there were a number of casualties."

One of the robots struck the wing of a hospital, killing two patients—one a soldier—and seriously injuring three nurses.

The blast punctured a water tank on the roof and rescue workers were drenched to the skin as they dug out the debris.

A second hospital was damaged by an explosion nearby, and many of the patients were evacuated.

Damage to the building was estimated at $500,000.

Another bomb fell on a church which had been hit previously, and the explosion damaged a number of surrounding houses.

Anti-aircraft guns along the south coast were in action most of the night. At one point gunners destroyed two flying bombs simultaneously, one exploding aloft and the other diving into the water.

German Warship Reported Off Sweden

STOCKHOLM, Aug. 3 (INS)—German warships have been sighted off the Aland Islands, between Finland and Sweden, a Finnish report to Stockholm said today.

Slovakia Travel Cut

NEW YORK, Aug. 3 (INS)—"Drastic restrictions" have been ordered on railway passenger traffic in the German-dominated puppet state of Slovakia "to conform to war conditions," the Nazi Transocean Agency said today.

is momentarily to carry the war to German soil.

Russian armor charged savagely upon German defenses before the East Prussian border cities of Schirwindt, Eydt-Kuhnen and Wehrkirchen.

Russian cannon shelled German soil.

Cherniakhovsky's forces swirled to within 8 miles of Tilsit and 44 of Insterburg, important East Prussian rail cities. Königsberg, East Prussian capital and 18th largest German city, was 93 miles away. Five railroads meet at Insterburg, site of iron, machine tool and tile factories.

Front dispatches declared fighting raged near Virbalis and Wilany, both three miles from the frontier.

(A Berlin broadcast recorded by Reuters in London said Russian forces had broken through the German lines at Augustow, 11 miles from the East Prussian border.)

The London Evening News said the German radio had broadcast a report Russian troops had crossed the east Prussian frontier.

While the campaign for East Prussia was intensified, the battle for Warsaw entered its fourth day of slow, bitter slugging on a 20-mile front involving its eastern suburbs.

The Germans clung to a line of fixed fortifications ringing the burning city and the industrial suburb of Praga, on the east bank of the Vistula, against massed bombardment from the ground and sky.

Marshal Rokossovsky undoubtedly was attempting to exploit his grip on the east bank of the Vistula for more than 100 miles below Warsaw by seeking a firm bridgehead from which to outflank Warsaw.

Behind Russian lines and a 10-mile corridor thrust to the Baltic sea west of Riga, four Russian army groups gnawed at the trapped thousands of Germans in Latvia and Estonia.

The Russians were 25 miles west of Riga and less than 20 miles to the southwest and closing in on all sides. A 28-mile advance from Pskov carried the Red army to the outskirts of Aulksne (Marienburg).

Just north of the Carpathians, the Russian capture of Rzeszow and advances beyond placed the Red army within 70 miles of Krakow, fifth city of old Poland.

Marshal Konev, hero of Moscow and Kharkov, sent columns probing at five Carpathian passes leading into Czechoslovakia, last reported 13 miles away.

Heavies Deluge Reich, Austria

LONDON, Aug. 3 (AP)—American heavy bombers were reported by Berlin today to be attacking through Austria into southwest Bavaria and also in strength in western Germany in great, coordinated blows from Italy and England.

The Swiss reports indicated the goal was in the area of Munich.

Hub Cops Delay Bride Arrests

The sovereign State of Maine figuratively put its hands on its hips today, struck a "Come, come, now" pose and asked Boston police to serve warrants on two 16-year-old Hyde Park brides who fibbed about their ages in an elopement to Portland, Monday.

But Boston police, nervous about intruding in the realm of young love, decided they would not upset the doings of Cupid until they had obtained legal advice.

Warrants naming the former Barbara E. Bowne of River st. and the former Doris M. McMaste of Oak st., were received at the Hyde Park police station by Capt. Harry Grace.

SERGEANT PONDERES

He turned them over to Sgt. Gilbert Noyes. Sgt. Noyes thought about it awhile and wondered, now, if the laws of the commonwealth did not protect 16-year-olds from extradition proceedings in cases of mere misdemeanor.

So it was decided that a conference be held with Andrew J. Gorey, legal adviser to Commr. Thomas F. Sullivan.

"I think," said the sergeant, "we had better get the lowdown from Mr. Gorey before I go ahead and serve these warrants, because I do not want to do anything illegal."

Pvt. William F. Bernier, 21, of Fuller st., Dorchester, who married Barbara Bowne, exercised the husbandly right of speaking her piece for her. The new Mrs. ment.

Bernier, he clared, will positively not waive extradition.

SOLDIER DU EAT CAMP

That was the way Francis X. Foley of Seymour st., Roslindale, felt about his bride, Doris McMaste.

Pvt. Bernier added he is due back at Camp Croft, S. C., Saturday. He said he plans to have his 16-year-old bride accompany him and live near the camp.

For a third couple who took part in the elopement love was running smoothly. Betty Browne, Barbara's 18-year-old sister, was married to Albert Fortin of Sprague st., Boston, by the same Portland justice of the peace who performed the other ceremonies.

Betty is back at her job with the John Hancock Life Insurance Co. and her husband has resumed his duties at the Readville distillery.

of the unusual will of the feline's late master, Woodbury Rand of Clark rd., Brookline, a Boston attorney.

The 8-year-old tiger cat has been bequeathed either $20,000, $40,000 or $60,000, depending on a judge's decision next month in Dedham Probate Court. But in any event, "Buster" seems assured of $5000 a year for life.

That amount appeared plenty to insure that he gets a good home for the rest of his life, plenty of food and a good burial when he dies.

TO CHALLENGE CODICIL

However, "Buster" must have a home in which there are no other animals to annoy him and where there are no children.

Rand's will drawn in May, 1943, set aside $20,000 for care of "Buster" and provided bequests of from $2000 to $6000 for relatives. But last May 1 he executed a codicil providing $60,000 for the cat and nothing for the relatives, several of whom already have indicated they will contest its provisions.

The $60,000 figure, however, was crossed out and $40,000 substituted. Relatives apparently plan to challenge the entire codicil, which still would leave "Buster" with $20,000.

CAT SCRATCHES

"Buster's" care is entrusted to Mrs. Margaret T. Thomson, formerly the Rand housekeeper, who is left $40,000 to be paid at the rate of $5000 yearly for eight years, whether or not the cat lives for that length of time.

Today, the cat was with Mrs. Thomson at the home of the latter's daughter, Mrs. Edith Chase of Alhambra rd., Wellesley, where there is a child in the house. The child is Mrs. Chase's son, Donald, 6, who already has found "Buster" not much of a playmate.

"He scratches," Donald said. Some interested parties will mean that $40,000 goes to "Buster" and $40,000 to Mrs. Thomson, meaning that the cat comes in for $80,000 worth of care. However, Charles N. Rogerson, attorney for the executors, the Boston Safe Deposit and Trust Co., said he believes the $40,000 is meant to be a single bequest, but admitted it is a matter for the court to decide.

SLAPPED BUSTER

Cut off in a codicil signed May 1, 1944—a month before the testator died—are several relatives, a few of whom have announced a contest will be made. Referring to the attitude of his relatives toward the cat, Rand revoked previous bequests to them thus:

"Six thousand dollars to my cousin, Eleanor M. Richards of Brookline, $2000 to my cousin, Marian Dudley Emerson of Brookline, $2000 each to her children, Denley and Dudley Emerson, $2000 to my cousin, Joseph L. Richards of Harvard, $2000 each to his children, Joseph and Nancy Richards." He said in the will that "my cousin, Marian Dudley Emerson, went so far as to slap him (Buster) one day during my stay at 215 Babcock st., Brookline."

Rand left his Clark rd. home and the income on the rest of his estate to an aunt, Sarah H. Woodbury, 90, but only on stipulation that she discharge Annie Pezane, washerwoman at the Rand home for many years. It was directed she must go without any gift of money.

The estate eventually goes, after the death of the aunt, to Austin R. Rice of Arlington, and later, after bequests to former employees, to the Massachusetts Society for Prevention of Cruelty to Animals. In any event, "Buster" seems

Showers, Cooler Boston Forecast

In Providence heavy downpours measured 1.13 inches, while comparable rains were reported in parts of Connecticut.

Warmer weather and moderate winds are due tomorrow.

Blood Plasma Saves Lives on Battle Fronts

William Randolph Hearst, Junior, in a series of three articles, of which this is the first, describes the role which blood plasma is playing in saving American lives on the Normandy battlefield.

By WILLIAM RANDOLPH HEARST, JUNIOR

LONDON, Aug. 3—I wrote a few paragraphs the other day mentioning the use of blood plasma on the American battlefield and my editor father suggested that, as interest and reaction to it were so keen, I should do a complete story along the same lines.

2 Boys Injured, Driver Held

Arraigned on four charges arising from the critical injuring of two young boys who were thrown 10 feet through the air after their coaster wagon was struck by an auto, Hugh McLaughlin, 42, of Fuller st., pleaded not guilty in Dorchester court today and his case was continued to Aug. 25.

Bail was set at $2500 on charges of operating to endanger and under the influence of liquor and two counts of leaving the scene of an accident after causing personal injury.

The boys, Robert DiSazio, 10, of Fairmount st., Arlington, and his cousin, William Lynds, 9, of Fuller st., were reported in poor condition at City Hospital.

Both boys suffered fractures of the skull, arms and legs, and concussion of the brain.

They were coasting down a slight incline on Fuller st. when struck from behind. Several hours later, according to police, McLaughlin telephoned to the Fields Corner station, and surrendered, later to Lt. Robert E. Bowes.

Hub Police Ready For War End Fete

Although greatly undermanned, the Boston police department is ready to handle even the wildest demonstration that may come with announcement that war in Europe has ended.

All officers have their instructions and auxiliary police are ready to jump into action to see that joyous crowds do not get out of hand. Police Commr. Thomas F. Sullivan has warned store owners to be ready to board up first floor plate glass windows at a moment's notice.

McKittick Defeats Clark by 20,000

ST. LOUIS, Aug. 3 (AP)—The lead Atty.-Gen. Roy McKittick piled up to defeat incumbent Sen. Bennett Clark for the Democratic senatorial nomination in Tuesday's primary stood at 20,000 today with reports tabulated from 438 of the state's 452 precincts. The vote was: McKittick, 165,726; Clark, 145,856.

Clark conceded his defeat late yesterday in a statement blaming the CIO Political Action Committee.

RAF Fighters Learn New Technique to Down Robots

Fighter pilots of the RAF, some of them Battle-of-Britain veterans, have learned new techniques in combating the flying bomb in one of the most dangerous schools in the world.

Their school-room was the English channel, and they had no teacher. They learned by hazardous trial and error, hurling their planes at the flying bombs as they sped across the Channel on their way to civilian targets in London and southern England.

As soon as the terror attack began, Britain's fighter pilots found they had to scrap all previous rules of air combat to avoid being blown up by the ton of explosives the robot carried. Some of the best marksmen and air fighting tacticians hurled themselves at 400 m. p. h. at the bombs, figuring out

Three Negro youths attacked and robbed Harry Fine, taxicab driver of Peterboro st., Back Bay, of $21, early today in Sterling st., Roxbury.

Fine told police the trio engaged his cab at Tremont st. and Massachusetts ave., and asked him to drive to Roxbury. In Sterling st., they ordered him to stop, grabbed him from behind, beat him, took his money and fled. Fine gave detectives a description of the three men. He said they were unarmed.

Adm. Platon Reported Kidnaped as Hostage

ZURICH, Aug. 3 (INS)—Adm. Rene Platon, ex-Vichy colonial minister and foreign secretary of state for Pierre Laval, has been kidnaped "as a hostage" by French patriots, the Gazette De Lausanne reported today.

The chief American medical officer in London is Maj. Gen. Paul R. Hawler who gave me a letter to his field commander—Col. John A. Rogers of Nashua, N. H., chief surgeon.

So the other day I flew over to Normandy to see him.

His headquarters are in a little orchard where he lives in a truck and has his office in a trailer captured from the Germans.

He has a cute little black and white dog called "D-Day."

WORK AS FRIENDS

In the field with Col. Rogers are Col. James Schneider of Washington, D. C., and William Ampsacher of Oklahoma City.

Col. Rogers is about 55, thin, six-foot tall, tanned and good-looking.

Jim Schneider, I should judge, is close to 50, and about the same build. Bill Ampsacher is probably in his early forties and broad of shoulder.

I do not think I have ever met three men in the armed forces or in business who work with more teamlike efficiency or who have greater respect for one another's ability.

After telling them what I had in mind, Jim said:

"I think the best way for you to get a picture of the whole thing is to go right on up and see the way the wounded are cared for from the time they are picked up on the battlefield.

"As a matter of fact it so happens that there is not much routine work around here today and Bill and I will go along with you."

SETUP EXPLAINED

So just before lunch the three of us piled into a jeep and set out for the hospital. They explained the set-up to me, which is as follows:

Litter bearers, with Red Cross armbands and a Red Cross painted on their helmets, pick up the wounded in the field and bring them first to what is known as a battalion aid station.

Wounds are bandaged and dressed. Tourniquets or splints are applied as necessary and in almost every case blood is transmitted.

From here the patients are taken several thousand yards to the rear to the next stop known as the collection station. Here again, plasma is given if needed and their wounds more thoroughly looked after. Then the patients go to a divisional clearing station, which invariably adjoins a field hospital.

If the patient needs immediate surgery, he goes into the field hospital.

The clearing stations have their own wards where the slightly injured are treated and kept for a few days. They return to the front as soon as they are able.

Finn, Soviet Peace Seen

STOCKHOLM, Aug. 3 (AP)—Reports from Finland suggested today the Germans may be in the process of evacuating all their troops from that country as a result of Marshal Baron Carl Gustaf Mannerheim's replacement of Risto Ryti as the Finnish president.

Despite Ryti's new nullified agreement with the Germans not to make a separate peace with Russia, the Nazis were said to have sent the Finns only one infantry division plus a panzer brigade to bolster the active southern front.

This division and a German division now stationed in northern Finland were reported already withdrawn to Estonia.

When Germans Quit

Plan of Action Agreed to by 3 Allies

Neither side will make a "separate peace." Either side will accept Germany's unconditional surrender at any time or place—accept it in the name of all the Allied powers.

The European advisory commission of British, American and Soviet representatives, assigned the task of working out plans for military and political co-operation when Germany folds up, has completed its work.

The plans cover two periods: 1—The end of organized resistance. This may cover several days or even weeks or may come as a single orderly surrender.

2—Occupation. This provides for three-way occupation of Germany by British, Russian and American troops, joint occupation of Berlin, creation of a joint military commission to administer the country and means of getting civil authorities to function again. Completion of the task of disarming Germany, including destruction or conversion of its armament factories, is called for.

The period of greatest confusion will be the first.

In official quarters here there is hope Hitler himself will still be alive and can be found to sign the surrender. It is said this would in no way prejudice the terms which would then be imposed and which are understood to call for turning over Hitler and other war criminals to the Allies for trial.

M'Grath Inquest Resumes

As the inquest on the murder of 10-year-old Frances McGrath resumed today in Hingham courthouse, Edward A. Soucy, special agent in charge of the Boston office, issued a denial that the FBI had joined in the investigation of the case.

The FBI would not comment on the reported investigation by them of the receipt of a threatening letter by a Scituate resident.

Dist. Atty. Edmund R. Dewing summoned 20 witnesses to testify today in the inquest before Judge Francis Gogan and said he hoped to complete the taking of testimony before nightfall.

He said Jack Lopes, 55, Scituate war worker free in $25,000 on a charge of being an accessory after the fact in the murder, would not be questioned today. Instead, he said, he would be held over for questioning after evidence taken at the inquest had been transcribed. He declined to comment further on the action, beyond pointing out that Lopes as a defendant was not required to answer a summons.

It was known, however, that a summons on a Joseph Lopes had been served, signed an detoured to the courthouse, which would require the signer to appear as a witness.

The name of Joseph Lopes did not appear on the list of 20 summoned to testify today.

They were: Benjamin LeClair, Cohasset; Ernest Bagley, Cohasset; Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Warren, Cushing; highway, Greenbush; John Encarnazi, Marshfield; William E. Kelley, Mrs. Louisa Alves and Justina Pina, all of Scituate; Russell Scott, Hanover; Melvin Prince, Circuit st., Norwell; Harry Beach, enkins, pl., Greenbush; Mrs. Schuyler Dillon, Norwell; Ralph L. Radio Writer Grilled By FBI on Two Fires

A 33-year-old Boston radio script writer and commentator was under questioning by FBI agents and police today, suspected of living a Dr. Jekyll-Mr. Hyde existence in which he sought thrills as a firebug.

Federal agents entered the case after police reported they had found several naval uniforms in the man's Brookline home.

He was taken into custody there this morning by police investigating incendiary fires in a Huntington ave. hotel and near-by restaurant last night. The hotel blaze forced 25 guests to flee and caused damage of $1500.

IN POLICE LINEUP

The arrest was made by Special Officer Henry Donovan of the arson squad and Sgt. Thomas Kearns.

In the police lineup the radio man admitted being in the restaurant shortly before the blaze, and acknowledged he had registered at the hotel. The fire originated in the room he had taken, police said.

The suspect denied he had set the fires. He said he'd had "a few drinks." He stated he had been born in Germany but had lived in the United States since childhood.

Police said they learned he had been discharged from the army but could find no record of naval service to explain the presence of naval uniforms in his home, where he lives alone.

IN KIDNAP HOAX

He is to be questioned in connection with a number of incendiary fires in Brookline, Brighton and the Back Bay.

Twice before he has figured in police investigations. In 1940, when he was living in Brighton, he told FBI agents he had been "kidnaped" in front of his home by a group of men in "foreign uniforms" who drove him to Chicago, beat him, and let him go.

Later he confessed it was a hoax. He said he had wanted an FBI probe of letters threatening him for "pro-English" broadcasts.

In 1937 he was treated for stab wounds at City Hospital after being held up and robbed of $10 in the Back Bay.

Philly Walks In Rain to Work

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 3 (AP)—Philadelphians by the thousands walked or hitch-hiked to their jobs in a drizzling rain today as the city looked to the White House to end a three-day-old transportation tieup that slashed war production and caused clashes between whites and Negroes.

The rain kept racial disorders at a low ebb last night, and no fighting had been reported since midnight. Extra police details, however, were on duty.

Up grading of eight Negro employees under a directive of President Roosevelt's Fair Employment Practices Committee precipitated the walkout, which appeared almost certain to culminate in government seizure of the Philadelphia Transportation Co. with possible use of troops.

Police last night reported new window smashings, attributed to Negro youths, as a two-hour move by a small group of PTC employees to restore service on Philadelphia's two subway lines ended in failure.

SEES U. S. SEIZURE

A Transport Workers Union (CIO) official said back-to-work appeals to the 6000 employees had "only a ghost of a chance, barring a big break in Washington." Government seizure, he agreed, would be such a "break."

Interracial clashes hospitalized 13 persons before yesterday's steady rain drove wandering bands of rioters indoors.

In an area where clashes were numerous, five Negroes attacked Morris Miller, 50, in his grocery store, and Miller shot and seriously wounded one of them. Police Superintendent Parsons reported. Miller possibly suffered a skull fracture.

The transport snarl kept 140,000 of the area's 800,000 war workers from their jobs, the War Manpower Commission reported, and central city business declined an estimated $1,000,000 a day.

Extra trains on the Pennsylvania Railroad and Reading Company lines could carry only a fraction of the 1,500,000 who usually ride on trolleys, buses and subway trains, and an oil industry spokesman said motorists, granted extra gasoline in the emergency, were draining the region's tanks.

CALLED SABOTAGE

Mayor Bernard Samuel said the work stoppage was "sabotage of our country's war effort," and James J. Fitzsimon, TWU international vice-president, who asserted that "a small group of self-seeking, disgruntled" employees were "trying to regain power over the dead bodies of American soldiers."

Draft boards were reclassifying into 1-A more than 500 idle workers, who previously had occupational deferments.

Plunge Kills Sacco Lawyer, Callahan

Atty. William J. Callahan, 62, of Newbury st., Brockton, who gained fame as an associate defense counsel in the Sacco-Vanzetti case, plunged to his death today from a ninth floor window of the Myles Standish Hotel.

The body landed on the roof of a two-story building adjoining the hotel and was found by the night manager, summoned by a patron who heard a thud.

He had registered at the hotel last night as William J. Farley of Melrose st., Springfield, but papers in his clothing indicated he was Callahan. His brother, Joseph, was summoned from Brockton and established identification at Northern Mortuary.

A bachelor, Callahan was survived by three other brothers, Robert, Edward and Thomas. He had not practiced criminal law since the late 1920's and since that time had served as counsel for the Brockton National Bank and for numerous estates.

U. S. Moscow Envoy Host to Polish Chiefs

MOSCOW, Aug. 3 (AP)—U. S. Ambassador W. Averell Harriman invited Premier Stanislaw Mikolajczyk and Foreign Minister Tadeusz Romer of the Polish government-in-exile to luncheon today at Spasso House, his official residence.

The Poles already had been entertained by British Ambassador Sir Archibald John Clark Kerr, and both the American and British envoys have had individual discussions with them regarding their mission of reconciliation with Russia.

Fish Dealers Adopt OPA Ceiling Prices

Retail fish dealers in five counties of eastern Massachusetts today put into effect OPA ceiling prices on seven kinds of fresh fish. Other fish may be added to the list later, OPA officials said.

The directive sets ceiling prices on Atlantic cod, cusk, flounder, haddock, Atlantic halibut, Pacific halibut and swordfish.

The ceilings must be posted in Group One and Two stores; Group Three and Four stores, wagon retailers and retail route sellers.

The five counties affected are: Bristol, Essex, Norfolk, Suffolk and Middlesex, except the towns of Townsend, Pepperell, Dunstable, Groton and Shirley.

The list of ceiling prices, per pound (the first price is for stores in Groups One and Two and the second price for stores in Groups Three and four):

LITTLE "CITY HICKS"

Tomorrow they will emerge into a world of miracles! Right now they are the children of an America busy at war. Ration stamps, War Bonds, fathers and brothers in the armed forces... these things, for the moment, are more important than their pleasures and pastimes.

Many of these little "city hicks" have never seen a farm... never ridden on a load of fresh-mown hay. It's not much fun to travel now. But tomorrow they'll zip down to Uncle Bill's farm... any time... in sleek, new, even more comfortably appointed post-war Rock Island ROCKETS!

Today's children will bask in a brighter, more beautiful America... tomorrow... when our nation, the war won, resumes its march of progress in the building of the peace.

Gloucester Dragger Beached by Fire

Fire, breaking out in the engine room of the Gloucester dragger Grace and Rosalie, forced her crew of five to beach her today near the Brant Rock Coast Guard station to permit civilian and Coast Guard apparatus to extinguish the flames.

Efforts to float the vessel were planned at high tide just before noon.

Damage to the vessel was slight and none of the crew, skippered by Nicholas Parisi of Gloucester was injured.

2 Losers Named PAC Probers

WASHINGTON, Aug. 3 (AP)—A three-man subcommittee, two of whose members were recently defeated for renomination in the face of CIO opposition, was named today to make a Dies committee investigation of the CIO's Political Action Committee (PAC).

From his home in Texas, Chairman Martin Dies (D.) sent word that the investigation, a continuance of an earlier inquiry by the House committee on un-American activities, would be made by Reps. Starnes (D.) of Alabama, Costello (D.) of California and Thomas (R.) of New Jersey or Busby (R.) of Illinois.

Starnes and Costello are the defeated pair. Dies also had been made a PAC target at the time he announced he would not seek re-election because of poor health.

The Texan announced appointment of the committee as he issued an ultimatum to Atty-Gen. Biddle to prosecute, under election statutes, the PAC and government officials he said have been active in PAC work.

Biddle recently reported that a department investigation found no evidence of law-breaking by the PAC.

Noxon Case Contempt Ruling Due Aug. 16

Supreme Court Justice James J. Ronan has set Aug. 16 for hearing the petition of Deputy Sheriff William A. Girl Sees Ex-Capone Gang Leader Slain

CHICAGO, Aug. 3 (INS).—"Dago" Lawrence Mangano, 54, chief of the remnants of the old Capone gang, was slain today in Chicago's "Little Italy" by gunmen who trailed him from suburban Cicero.

The gunmen also wounded Mangano's companion, "Big" Mike Pantillo, one-time bodyguard of "Diamond Joe" Esposito.

Mangano was Chicago's first "round-the-block" murder victim.

After first felling him, the three gunmen climbed the block and came back to make sure they had finished him off.

GIRL EYEWITNESS

The story of the shooting, one of the few eye witness accounts ever given of such a slaying, was told by Rita Reyes, 25.

Miss Reyes, a slender, dark-haired girl who police said seemed unaware she was in about the worst company in the city, was Pantillo's companion of the evening.

She said she met Pantillo but two weeks ago. At 11:30 last night, she said, he called for her when she finished work and later introduced her to Mangano.

At Mangano's suggestion, she said, they went to Cicero and spent an hour in a saloon and then returned to Chicago with Mangano driving. He noticed a car following them and stopped, she said, remarking:

"Let's see what these guys want."

Mangano alighted and stood in the street. The three men in a dark sedan slowed up, almost alongside him.

THREE SHOTGUN BLASTS

A shotgun was fired three times. Two blasts struck the car Mangano had been driving. The third hit him.

Mangano collapsed as the killers returned and fired more bullets which riddled him and wounded Pantillo.

Asked who shot him, Mangano told police:

"If I knew, I'd tell you. I don't know."

Lost Girl, 3, Finds Uncle

Little Elsie Ceruti, 3, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Ceruti of Genesee st., South End, was visiting with her uncle, Linwood Baker of Tremont st., South End, today, thanks to police officers of the Warren ave. station.

The tiny blonde, lost for eight hours in her search for her uncle's home, was taken in charge by Patrolman William Barry. The child spent the day at the station and her description broadcast. When no lost child was reported, officers took Elsie to the Chardon st. Home where her uncle claimed her.

Treasure Trove

PORTLAND, Ore., Aug. 3 (AP).—A map-guided treasure hunt in an old house occupied for many years by elderly bachelor brothers, now dead, has yielded $6000 in gold and silver coins, and an estimated $7000 to $10,000 more is believed buried in the premises, the Oregonian said today.

Approximately $2000 in silver coins was found in money bags in bureau drawers, $300 in silver in an old unlocked safe, and $276 in an old pair of trousers hanging in a closet. An old stove in the basement contained a glass jar holding $3000, mostly in $20 gold pieces.

Unity Rules GOP Parley in St. Louis

ST. LOUIS, Aug. 3 (AP)—Republican governors mixed a generous portion of political organization work with their search for the dividing line between Federal-state government controls today and National Chairman Herbert Brownell, Jr., hailed the results as indicative of "a more united party than at any timely many, many years." "The governors were ready to take final action on at least half of a 14-point program involving subjects where presidential nominee Thomas E. Dewey has contended the Federal rein has lightened the bit painfully on the states, they hoped to complete the job today." Regard as just as important by some party officials were the quiet conferees between Brownell and the men who know from experience what takes for a Republican ticket to carry a state. The fact that the 26 Governors apparently were on the verge of unanimous agreement on a statement of major policy showed there was something new in party unity within the GOP, Brownell said. "By doing that," he declared, "the Governors will have demonstrated to the American people that the Republican party has the unified ability to govern, in contrast with the squabbling, back-biting, quarrelling, confusion and bickering that characterizes the New Deal party today." Expressing confidence the Dewey-Bricker ticket would win in November, Brownell continued conferences today. Talks yesterday included one with Gov. Leverett Saltonstall of Massachusetts.

107-Yr.-Old Democrat Paper Out for Dewey

BALTIMORE, Md., Aug. 3 (INS)—One of the oldest Democratic newspapers in America, the Baltimore Sun, has come out with full editorial support for Gov. Thomas E. Dewey for presidency.

The 107-year-old newspaper which has backed only two other Republicans in its history—William McKinley in 1896 and Wendell Willkie, four years ago—declared:

"Mr. Roosevelt's decision to run for a fourth term makes it necessary for the Sun to oppose him in order to do what it can to forestall the evils which such a decision brings into view. Fortunately, the Republicans have nominated an able candidate in Gov. Dewey. Good Democrats and good citizens generally can support Mr. Dewey with few reservations and no misgivings."

"There was no good reason, even with reference to the war, why Mr. Roosevelt should have chosen to do violence to the profound beliefs of his party and the most cherished tradition of the country by seeking to hold on to his office. The American people know, deep in their hearts, that long tenure of office corrupts the soul of the officeholder and breeds therein contempt of the people and their institutions."

"Such disintegration has been in evidence in the Roosevelt administration for a long time."

The editorial spoke of "its distasteful climax at the Chicago convention, when Mr. Roosevelt, with sententious double talk, tossed his most devoted follower,

Checking Air Force Officers
in Link Trainers

The spirit that won the Army

AN AIR FORCE OFFICER came in for his routine checkup and was surprised to find a Wac in charge of the Link Trainer. "Why, that's no work for a woman!" he said.

"I've been trained for it, sir," the Wac answered with a smile. "And if I can't do it, I don't belong in this man's Army."

This Wac spirit isn't just one of brag or pride in the Corps. It's a spirit of confidence.

For the WAC hasn't been given jobs, it has won the right to do them. When the WAC was first organized, there were only four jobs the Army thought women could handle.

But the WAC rolled up its sleeves and showed the Army what women can do.

Job by job, they demonstrated their aptitude, their earnestness, and courage.

And the four jobs grew into 239. Today, wherever you find a Wac on the job, you find a job well done. G.I. Joe says it. The Colonel says it.

And the General says, "I wish we had a million more Wacs!"

ENGLAND—"Trainees" at the Rehabilitation Center, that is, convalescents from wounds suffered in the Normandy invasion, included PFC Charles Young, 6 Cutler ave., Cambridge; S-Sgt. Edwin Young, 5 Main st., Shirley; PFC David B. Vautrain, 20 Joy st., Ludlow; Sgt. Verne George, No. Main st., Milbury, and Pvt. Everett Ducharme, RFD 2, Chepachet, R. I.

"Charles Young is low-headed, stocky and 30. He lived in Melrose as a youngster and swam for the Melrose "Y" juniors. He has a sister, Lillian Young, living at 167 Trenton st., Melrose. Another sister, Mrs. Edna Blackstone, lives in Wakefield. "Forgot the address," said Young, "but I know her husband, Nat, is over here." Young married Frances A. MacArthur, daughter of the late Asst. Fire Chief in Cambridge.

WALKS WITH LIMP
Young is a paratrooper, and "ripped my left knee when I landed in a tree on D-Day." A paratrooper doesn't quit before he does any work, so "I kept going with the help of my buddy, Ralph Casass of California. He'd snap the knee back into place, and we'd trudge along, until it snapped out again. This went on for 10 or 12 hours. Finally when he had attained our objective, I was evacuated. Wish I had some of the souvenirs I picked up, particularly that German luger."

Young has tossed away his crutches, but walks with a limp. "Betcha I'll be back with my outfit in two or three weeks," he said. "I've got some celebrating to do. I spent my 30th birthday, June 9, in the hospital and must make up for it."

Edwin Young is 25, with the medals attached to the infantry. His father, Bernard A., is in the Merchant Marine. Mother, Mary A., is at home. Brother Bernard A., Jr., 19, is with the Navy in the So. Pacific. "He took part in the invasion of Oran and Salerno," said Edwin.

Edwin Young arrived in Normandy on D plus 2. "Our job was to set up an aid station and evacuate 40 wounded. We got them safely on board ship and were digging in when the Germans counter-attacked. They broke up our aid station with their 88's. They killed a pal of mine and they pinked me in the thumb. I kept working, but the wound became infected over night, and I was evacuated in the morning." Young was graded in 'C' class and expected to be back with his company in a matter of weeks.

M. D. AT HARVARD
"Our battalion leader, a Capt. Greese from Danvers, Mass., is one of the most courageous men I ever met," he added. "He did a marvelous job while the Germans were attacking. He's just a young fellow, 27 or 28, but a great soldier as well as doctor. Received his M. D. at Harvard, and worked in Boston City Hospital. I'm told his skill saved many lives after the Coconut Grove fire. I lost some friends in that one. I was over here at the time. Incidentally, I met Austin Lake in England here last winter."

Vautrain is 23, in infantry. He landed in Normandy on D plus 1 and fought through on C and K rations until June 16, when shrapnel pierced the calf of his left leg. He was able to walk without crutches and expected to get back into action in four or five weeks. He is one of three sons of Mr. and Mrs. John Vautrain, who are in uniform. The others are Louis, 26, and Arthur, 23, both in the Army back home. "Think your office would send my picture to the Springfield Union?" Vautrain asked.

Verne George is 26, stocky and red-headed. He's an M. P. with the Air Corps; his duties include guarding airfields and ammunition dumps. A piece of shrapnel hit him in the right leg on June 23, and he had recently arrived at the rehabilitation center after his stay in the hospital. He was anxious to get back with his outfit because "I work harder here than I ever did with the Air Corps." Letters from Dolores Parcia, 69 Corina st., Providence, were most welcome. "She never misses a day," he said, in admiration.

FIGHTING FAMILY
Verne George belongs to a fighting family. Brother Ernest, 23, is stationed in Africa after having been with the infantry in three invasions—North Africa, Sicily and Italy. He was injured in Italy and was awarded the Silver Star. He's a sergeant. Brother Harold, 19, is with the field artillery in Italy, and went through the severe campaign on the Anzio beachhead. Parents: Mr. and Mrs. Claude George.

Ducharme, 23, is an infantryman. He went in on D-Day and fought through until June 15, when concussion from a German 88 twisted his hip. "It was a terrible blast," he said. "Blinded me for while. I don't know how long because I passed out of the picture." Ducharme was seriously hurt, and faced a long, uphill climb before he returned to combat. Parents: Mr. and Mrs. Adolphus Ducharme.

There were other Normandy casualties in the camp, particularly 21-year-old paratrooper Pelham Noyes of Brunswick, Me. One of six brothers in the service, he'll tell his story tomorrow.

In the Armed Forces

Robert Rhesult, son of Mr. and Mrs. William J. Rhesult Western ave., Lynn, has been promoted to corporal with the 10th Air Force in Italy. He has served more than a year in the China-Burma-India theater.

George S. Mantel of Hallowell, former Worcester Trade School student, was recently promoted from corporal to sergeant in the 15th Air Force Service Command in Italy. He was employed in Attleboro prior to entering service.

Edward T. Kenney, son of Mrs. Mary A. Kenney, Atherton st., Roxbury, stationed in Italy with the 12th Fighter Command, has been promoted to corporal.

Sgt. Howard M. Fuller, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Fuller, Jones st., Lynn, is serving with the Ninth Air Force Service Command as a field photographer.

Warren F. Hall of Milton ave., Boston, veteran of 30 combat missions as a radio operator and gunner in the Mediterranean theater, was recently promoted to technical sergeant.

Leo J. Griswold, 94 Harbor, Boston, and George A. Jarosch, Chelsea st., East Boston, stationed in Italy, have been promoted to corporal and awarded the Army Good Conduct Medal.

There were other Normandy casualties in the camp, particularly 21-year-old paratrooper Pelham Noyes of Brunswick, Me. One of six brothers in the service, he'll tell his story tomorrow.

Q—I was honorably discharged, members of the armed forces exempt from Federal Income Tax? A—Yes, the entire amount is exempt from tax on the part of the beneficiary.

Q—Why can't my son be transferred to a post near our home? A—Enlisted men will be transferred only for the convenience of the Government when such action will result in a substantial benefit to the military service.

Q—If a man in service reaches his 38th birthday, does he have a right to ask for a discharge? A—No, such requests are discontinued as of July 1, 1945.

Q—My husband made arrangements with the Government under the Soldier and Sailors' Civil Relief Act to pay his insurance premiums to the local insurance company and I have been notified to that end. Why do I still receive the request for payments from the insurance company? A—The Insurance Company will receive payments on premiums as long as they are paid and when a payment is not made then it falls under the Government provision and payments from you will not be accepted by the company.

Marines Stage 'Loyalty' Show

The fighting Marines landed on Boston Common today for their contribution to "Loyalty Week," staged by the War Manpower Commission, Boston merchants and the armed services to stress the need of greater war production.

In celebrating "Marine Corps Night" from 8:30 to 10 p. m. this evening, crack Marines will show how they handle Japs in the far Pacific. Music will be furnished by the U. S. Marine Corps Band from the Navy Yard. Sgt. DePaula, directing, R. H. Blanchard, vice-president of the Hood Rubber Co., will speak.

Warning that the war effort is critically short of certain vital supplies, W. H. Wheeler, regional WPB director, told a "War Manpower Commission Night" audience that there can be no substantial increase in civilian production for the present, Wheeler said:

Because children have been stripping captured enemy equipment for souvenirs, they will be no longer admitted to the "Shot From the Sky" exhibit unless accompanied by parents or adults, the Army has announced.

'Annie's' Tugboat Back on Duty

LONDON, Aug. 3 (By Cable)—Tugboat Annie's tug has been starting in a new role—as H.M.S. Sabine under the white ensign of the British Navy, moving stores between England and the Normandy beaches since D-day.

The little ship that played so prominent a part in the late Marie Dressler film, left American waters in 1940, fitted out as a rescue tug, ran the gauntlet of that stretch of the North Sea known as E-Boat alley for two years, salvaging thousands of tons of bombed and torpedoed shipping. Then it was felt the tough old battler whose ungainly, topheavy build had become familiar to those on convoy duty, had earned an honorable discharge. Newer, more powerful vessels were available, and the Sabine was laid up.

When the invasion pressed into service everything that could float the tug emerged from retirement and staged her comeback last April with reconditioned engines and a rejuvenated hull.

Her commander, Lt. G. A. Corke and most of his officers, are veterans with long records of sea service.

Without Painful Backache

Many sufferers relieve nagging backache quickly, once they discover that the real cause of their trouble may be tired kidneys. The kidneys are Nature's chief way of taking the excess acid and waste out of the blood. They help most people pass about 2 quarts a day.

When disorder of kidney function permits poisonous matter to remain in your blood, it may cause nagging backache, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, grinding up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headache and dizziness. Frequent or scanty passages with a burning or stinging sometimes shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. They give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.

Wife's Doorbell Campaign Aids Husband in Kansas

HOLTON, Kan., Aug. 3 (AP)—Mrs. Albert Cole has just finished talking with hundreds of Kansas housewives in a nine-week, door-to-door campaign, selling—her husband.

The returns from Tuesday's Kansas primary show the effectiveness of Mrs. Cole's saleswoman. Her husband, State Senator Albert Cole, defeated the highly favored Rep. W. P. Lamberton, 20,502 to 18,331, with only one precinct missing in the unofficial returns, for the Republican nomination as U. S. Representative.

In this predominantly Republican district, nomination is considered synonymous with election. Never has a Democrat represented it in Congress.

Campaign plans, Mrs. Cole said today, were simple. The Coles would arrive in a town early in the morning. While Senator Cole scurried off to talk to the men,

Mrs. Cole would call on the women. Her object: "To see as many people as possible." She said she managed to average 20 calls an hour, and she tried to limit her interview to a minute. She worked six days in each of the nine weeks.

"I went to the door, rang the bell and when a woman came to the door, I introduced myself," she explained. "I gave her one of Albert's cards, expressed the hope she would vote for my husband—and went on to the next house."

Mrs. Cole said she never asked anyone to vote for her husband. She just said she hoped they would.

He's got a right to quit— have you?

If you lost an arm at Salerno or a leg in Normandy, you'd have a right to quit.

But even that hasn't stopped most of our boys.

Thousands of them have come back from bloody battlefields and stepped right into production lines. There's too much fight in them to give up.

Maybe we civilians should hang our heads in shame.

In Greater Boston alone, 6,700 war workers quit their jobs in the past two months. They weren't sick. They weren't injured. They just quit. Quit cold.

What are YOU going to do about it?

If you have a war job, stick to it! Work safely, so you won't have to quit. And if you don't have a war job, get on the production line. Your nearest U. S. Employment Service can direct you to hundreds of plants where help is desperately needed.

Nazi Tank... Gone

Tank's End

Two bazooka men in foreground were aiming at the wrecked building in the rear, where snipers were hiding, when this German tank entered the scene and blocked their way. Instantly, their rockets were aimed at it, and the camera records the moment under the impact of a direct hit, the tank disappeared in a cloud of smoke and flame.

YANK WOUNDED FLOWN FROM FRANCE

By Burris Jenkins, Jr.

Sketched From Life

CLOUDS cover the English Channel. It looks hopeless.

"They'll get through," says "Duke" Douglas, sprawled in his jeep on the edge of the strip.

We scan the gray sky. In rows of hospital tents behind us men listen anxiously, wounded men, some hurt that very day.

"Here they come!"

Two sturdy old C-47s plow in under the clouds and circle the field.

"Duke" Douglas—Capt. Earl W., from Portland, Oregon—9th Air Force officer in charge of flying our wounded from Normandy to the hospitals in England—already has whirled his jeep across the strip to order up the ambulances.

24 Litters Packed In Each Plane

"Get 'em rolling," he shouts. "There's four more coming! Back 'em in close, 24 litters to a plane! Shake up those stretcher bearers."

In seconds he's back at the strip, jerking to a stop in the dust of the slip-stream as the first doors open. Ambulances are already backing up, crews lifting loaded litters into the plane.

Bearded faces light up as the nurse leans over them. The wounded don't speak, they just smile faintly. The war is over. They've done their best. They're going home.

"We've moved about 15,000 from Normandy already," Capt. Douglas tells you. "All by air. Our biggest day was 1,082 patients in seven and one-half hours. That took 52 airplanes. We handled 40 airplanes in four hours that day.

Pilots Fly Low For Badly Wounded

"No far we've had only two patients die en route. We're very careful to instruct pilots about the condition of their patients. Dangerously wounded patients can't stand high altitudes."

"There are usually about 1,000 patients in these tents under preliminary hospital treatment. They don't stay more than a few hours unless weather makes evacuation impossible. In extreme cases it's possible for a man to be wounded near St. Lo at 4 p. m. and be safe in an English hospital after dark."

"Curious how many head wounds we get nowadays—more than in Africa, Sicily or Italy. Must be this hedge-row warfare . . ."

From French Battle Front to England

A couple of hours later Maj. Mars Lewis of Norfolk, Va., sets her down gently on a quiet English field. Ambulances already wait. Unloading starts the moment the doors are open.

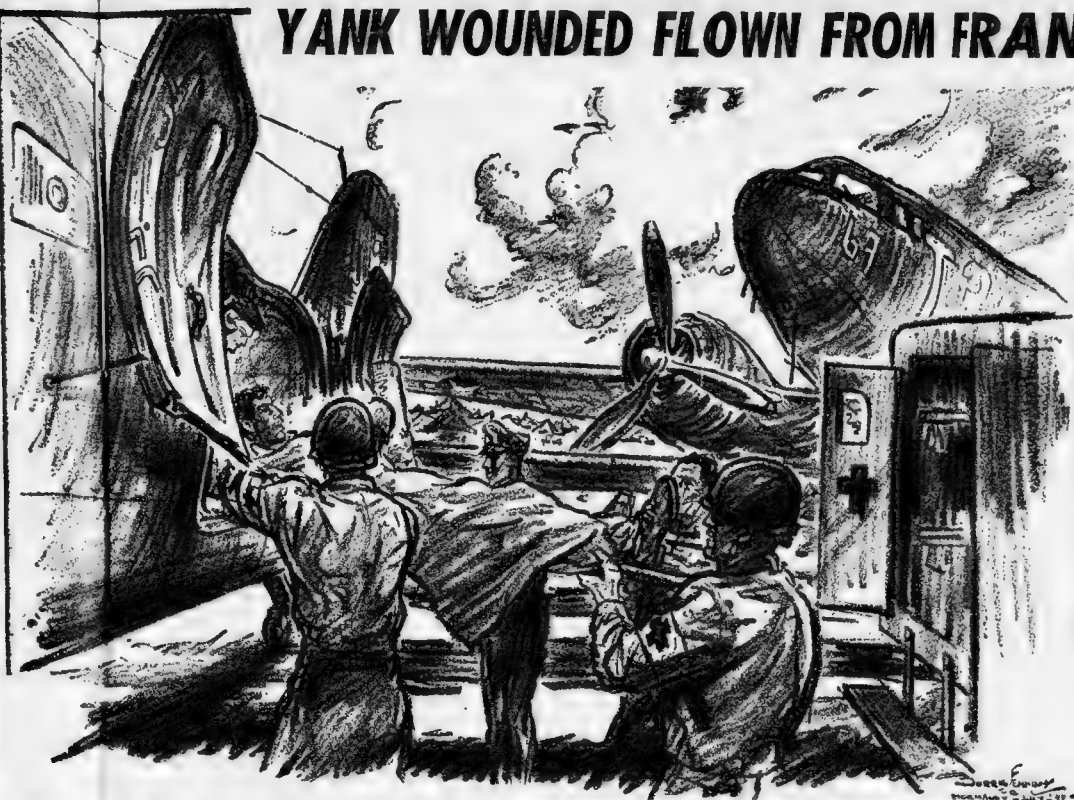

"Thought for a while we couldn't get through that overcast!" sighs Maj. Lewis lighting a cigarette. "Guess I'm tired. Guess I'll turn in for an early start tomorrow . . ."

Quick Mercy Hop

SHREVEPORT, La., Aug. 3 (AP)—A B-26 bomber made a 364-mile mercy flight to Dallas, Tex., and back in one hour and 59 minutes last night to obtain anti-tetanus serum for the treatment of J. O. Leach, 33, of Beaumont, Tex., a patient at Charity Hospital here.

Boston American, Aug. 3-15

Normandy Scene—In the dramatic sketches on this page, Burris Jenkins, Jr., noted Boston American artist, takes you behind the scenes of one of the most important phases of our war effort: Transporting wounded men by plane direct from battle areas to hospitals far from front lines. Above, evacuation planes leave Normandy.

Game and Husky—Artist Jenkins here pictures Cpl. Sam H. Burchett, 20, with seven wounds in his shoulders.

He Did His Share—This fighting man was wounded so badly he did not move during the entire flight over the English channel.

Bound for Blighty—Aboard this evacuation plane, Lt. Ellen F. Church, Army nurse, does noble duty . . . taking care of the wounded in the cross-channel hop. In the background is the plane's crew chief, Sgt. Julian A. Stepson. The planes make constant trips from the front to the hospitals.

HOLLYWOOD, Aug. 3—A national fan magazine survey has Van Johnson so near the top that he is giving Frank Sinatra a race for honors. In all the mail that comes in, Van is neck-and-neck with "The Voice." The youngsters are crazy about him.

Gloria de Haven

Mervyn Leroy tells this one on his daughter, Linda, age 6. Van is, by no means the lead in "White Cliffs of Dover," but when Linda saw him in the theaters in his picture she yelled, "there's my boy friend, there's my boy friend," and everyone in the house looked around at the 6-year-old. The next "Dr. Gillespie" has been built up so that Doctor Red Adams, played by Van, is a very important character, and he'll have Gloria de Haven opposite him in what Carole Wilson calls a "junior Betty Davis" character.

TWO PEOPLE I know are happy today—John Cromwell, the director, and Harriet Parsons, the producer, of "The Enchanted Cottage." Both of them wanted Herbert Marshall, who is such a swell actor, for the highly important role of the blind composer. Earl will be co-starred with Dorothy McGuire and Alan Marshall, which makes an interesting cast. Because Dorothy hasn't yet finished "A Tree Grows in Brooklyn," "The Enchanted Cottage" won't go before the cameras until Aug. 22.

WALT DISNEY is getting "Uncle Remus" ready to go before the cameras early in January. He told me he's found a marvelous way of combining humans with the cartoons. Uncle Remus, an old Negro philosopher who tells the children stories about Brer Rabbit and Brer Fox, will be chosen from the Hollywood actors. The little animals will be cartoons, and Walt has perfected a new technique. I asked him about Ginger Rogers doing "The Adventures of Alice in Wonderland." He laughed, and said he had never talked with her, but it was a good idea.

ARTHUR LAKE seems to be a busy gentleman these days with all the studios interested in his type of comedy. He is now in "Alias the Bad Man," with Dale Evans, and it is being produced by Sydney Williams, former city attorney who has turned movie producer and releases his pictures through Republic. The story sounds as if it might have been written for Harold Lloyd. It is all about a timid little guy (Arthur, of course) who pretends to his girl friend that he is "The Masked Marvel," the terror of the wrestling ring.

SNAPSHOTS OF HOLLYWOOD: The ex-Mrs. Harry James is a constant visitor at Birmingham Hospital. A certain major is the attraction: Deanna Durbin, looking as smart as if she had posed for a fashion magazine, dining with Al Bloomingdale. Bet he was trying to get her to do a stage show: Vincent Minelli, the very attractive director of "Ziegfeld Follies," and Ruth Brady in conference at the Clover Club; Jennifer Jones returns Saturday from her whirlwind bond tour. While she was in Washington she was the guest of the Catholic University and saw the stage version of "Song of Bernadette"; three movie offers for Zion Myers' show, "Family Man," starring Hanley Stafford (Baby Snooks' father); Flower Perry Coogan and Jackie's commanding officer, Maj. Richard Benjamin, dined together last night at the Beverly Tropics; Anne Shirley leaves the Good Samaritan Hospital.

Star Shine By Sidney Skolsky

HOLLYWOOD, Aug. 3—Lana Turner and "Turban Bey" Stanley Dan, who is a member of the "Winged Victory" troupe, had his name changed legally to Charles Dan, and wants it known that from now on he will be professionally known as Dan Stanley. Capt. Dan Carroll is in town, and a yarn about him concerns the time when he and his superior officer were en route to parts unknown in a club plane. They were forced to land because Nazi pursuit planes started to fire on them. The officer started in one direction, Carroll in another. Carroll landed on a soldier crouching in a very tight jambo. Finally, the straining planes flew away and Carroll and the soldier untangled themselves. The soldier took a look at Carroll, recognized him, and yelled, "Saw, I didn't know there was a USO show around here!"

YOU'LL BE seeing them in Hollywood's familiar places. They are a type and they give out with the same routine. There is, for example, the agent who brought Betty Grable or Greer Garson to the attention of the proper people, and says so to impress some doll who is about to be wooed.

There's the ex-picture star, who is still giving a performance, but now it is at the club or in a restaurant. This type usually tries to impress the waiter—an unwilling audience. The real bore is the guy who has been out with Y. Frank or L. B. the night before, they are great friends of his, and if you want an in in the studio, he'll be glad to fix it for you. The truth of the matter is that he sat at Y. Frank's table all night and Y. Frank is still wondering who he is and what he was doing at the table.

There is the casting director who says you are not the type, after having turned down an Englishman for an English part, native of Russia for a Russian and a French actor for the role of a French soldier.

And there is the guy who is ways at the preview, and after he showing joins the sidewalk conference and says, "David, you did it again." But he never tells David what he did. These types and many more you'll be seeing in Hollywood's familiar places.

George Holland Boston After Dark

"STARS OVER BOSTON" is the obvious heading for this little story, but that reads a bit on the trite side when the situation is most unacknowledged indeed. . . . For the fact is that the only Boston-born theatrical producing firm in the business is operating, and most successfully, as the stars and astrology dictate. . . . The firm is that of Nell Mercier, Robert Reud and (silently) Jules Laventhal. . . . Miss Meyer should be known to readers of this column by this time. . . . She is the girl who leased the Brunswick Hotel, and made a success of it. . . . Branching out she bought an inn in Wellesley and a famous restaurant on Cape Cod and made winners of both.

BRANCHING OUT—on a long limb, this time—she began producing plays as the unbilled partner of her friend, Bob Reud, the former press agent, two years ago. . . . Their first was "The Two Mrs. Carralls," with Elizabeth Bergner. . . . It ran a year and is resuming a Broadway run at the Booth Theater on Aug. 14. . . . It is reopening at that date because the signs from above are friendly (and don't think we are treating the subject lightly).

THE SECOND REUD-MERCIER production was something called "Ramshackle Inn," starring ZaSu Pitts. . . . The critics of Boston had a first crack at that one, as it began its career at the Wilbur Theater. . . . Then the New York critical "death watch" got in its clucks. . . . But ZaSu fluttered along and so did the play. . . . Last week it sold out in Chicago. . . . The production cost came back halfway through the New York run.

AND NOW—EXACTLY AT 4 p. m. on Aug. 12, a new Reud-Mercier-Laventhal production called "Fanny" will begin rehearsals on Broadway. . . . Aug. 12 falls this year on Saturday. . . . This is a most unusual day on which to begin rehearsals in New York, Monday being favored and Tuesday or Wednesday being the next most favored days.

THERE ARE TECHNICAL reasons for this, and one is that Actors' Equity allows so many weeks for rehearsals and a play going in rehearsal on Saturday would conclude its rehearsal period on a Friday. . . . That would result in a Saturday opening, and Saturday openings are most irregular because drama critics do not fancy leaving their suburban estates or city penthouses on the middle of a weekend. . . . Nevertheless, "Fanny" will go in rehearsal on Saturday, Aug. 12, and of course

"FANNY" IS A COMEDY by Harry Segal, who writes chiefly for the movies. . . . The star is not yet cast, but a favorable date (under the Zodiac) is due very soon, and the papers will be signed at that time. . . . Sam Levene, the fine actor, has been hired already. . . . In reviewing the theatrical season of 1943-44 recently, a New York sage of the drama spoke with high levity of the worthlessness of a season in which at least one hit was the result of its producers' confidence in the astral auguries. . . . The reference palpably was a hit against Mercier, Reud et al. . . . But we're not speaking in irreverence. . . . No, siree.

TWO HITS OUT of two and a third which Our Nell thinks is a cinch. . . . When the gall goes wrong—just once—we may string along with the front-runners and scoff at Nell's credulity. . . . Until then, and knowing the strange things which happen on Broadway—we are settling down nothing but the facts.

WE HEAR THAT Miss Mercier's best Boston friends are riding the crest of the wave with her, recipients of shares in her two hits—after they were hits. (And that too is something new under the sun—or stars.)

V-Garden Salad

By MARTHA LEE

DO YOU REMEMBER from childhood days the long milk-glass boats or dishes that stood at one end of a growing summer table, filled with thick slices of tomato and onion and maybe cucumber? Directed in the household's favorite dressing, or just vinegar, salt and pepper, this "side dish" was crisp, juicy, crunchy. The tomato and onion combination—along with a dishful of mustard pickles—gave just the right accent to many an otherwise toothy meal. And giving the right accent to dinner has been an important function of salads ever since.

We no longer serve salads in the milk-glass boats—but we can use them just as effectively as Grandma did, and with a few present-day touches besides. Here's a salad, for instance, that makes the most of your Victory garden tomatoes and onions, and adds shrimp to make it a main-dish triumph for luncheon or supper.

TOMATO-SHRIMP SALAD

Tomatoes French dressing
Browned onions Cooked shrimp
Watercress Salad dressing
Peel the tomatoes, cut them into thick slices and marinate in French dressing. Then place the tomato slices on a round chop plate and cover each with a thin slice of peeled onion. Arrange several shrimp on each onion slice. Garnish with watercress and serve with salad dressing.

To really enjoy fresh ripe tomatoes, it doesn't do to slice them too thin. Slice them thick and you get the full flavor.

Serve this complete and tempting salad with cheese.

This salad is an excellent hot weather choice. Serve it with an iced beverage and hot biscuits—and a gingerbread upside-down cake for dessert.

GINGERBREAD UPSIDE-DOWN CAKE

1 cup Quick Gingerbread
1/2 cup butter or other shorten-

1-1/2 cups firmly packed dark brown sugar

7 halves cooked pears

Prepare batter for Quick Gingerbread. Melt shortening in frying pan, or square or round pan, add brown sugar and stir until sugar is dissolved; arrange pear halves, hollow side down, in syrup. Cover with cake batter and bake in moderate oven (350 deg. F.) about 40 minutes. Loosen cake from sides and turn out upside-down on service plate; allow pan to rest over cake a few seconds so that syrup will drain on cake. Serve warm. Makes about 7 servings.

QUICK GINGERBREAD

1 cup sifted flour
1/2 tsp. baking soda 1/2 tsp. salt

1/2 tsp. cinnamon 1 tsp. ginger
1/2 tsp. nutmeg

1 egg, slightly beaten
5 tbsp. dark brown sugar

1/2 cup dark molasses
1/2 cup sour milk or buttermilk

1/2 cup shortening, melted

Mix and sift flour, soda, salt and spices. Combine egg, sugar, molasses, sour milk and shortening; gradually add flour mixture, stirring until mixed, then beat vigorously about 1 minute, or until smooth. Turn into greased shallow pan and bake in moderate oven (350 deg. F.) about 30 minutes. Makes 1 small (8-inch) square cake.

My Day

NEW YORK, Wednesday—One afternoon last week I spent three hours at Vassar College. I have been down often during their summer institute. But this session was particularly interesting to me because a group of Chinese women, now in attendance, had charge of the afternoon program. Five women recited some nursery rhymes, each one in her own particular Chinese dialect. A very interesting and artistic family had come from New York city for the day. The young lady, who had danced with the Ballet Russe, combined some of the grace of the Chinese with the expert toe-dancing of the Russian Ballet, and we enjoyed her greatly. The boy, who is only 15, had a children's book on sale, written by his mother and illustrated with the most delightful pictures, which all children will adore. Under our eyes, this boy did two drawings, one of which depicted three entrancing cherubs. You smiled when you looked at them, and I was delighted when he presented them to me as a gift for a grandchild.

SOME OF THE older children at the institute were allowed to watch and listen to the afternoon program. Afterwards tea and Chinese rice cakes were served to us all, and the children especially enjoyed this part of the entertainment! In the Euthenics Institute, each participating individual or family group must learn a great deal about co-operation, and many of the things of value in a family group must also have a bearing on the family's life in the community.

DEAR MISS FAIRFAX: Not bad looking, though I'm 64 and have a shape that suggests an old apple-tree. I'm a widower with four children, one in the armed services, two married, and one, 18, at home.

I've been alone for 13 years. I've been seeing two ladies, one 26, one 46. The one 46 understands everything, but the one 26 is mighty attractive, thinks I have plenty of money, but I haven't a dime. Which do you think would be my best bet?

I SEE IN the papers every day that here and there the sale of E bonds has lagged, and I wonder if more places in the States could not copy a plan which apparently has been very successful in New York city. The mayor has just presented a $100 bond to four different people. These bonds are awards known as the Sachs E bond awards, and the four recipients are the champion "big four" E bond salesmen. Mrs. Anne Reben of the Bronx, came out tops, having sold $369,650 worth. She is a housewife, William S. Craven of Corona, N. Y., sold $471,450 worth. He is an insurance man, so I do not think he deserves as much credit as the lady. Next we have a school boy and girl, Kevin O'Sullivan, aged 16, of Bayside, N. Y., sold $129,750 worth, and Isabella Jena, aged 16, of Brooklyn, N. Y., sold $25,068 worth.

Investigate All Clothes

By BETTINA BEDWELL

YOU girls who are getting your back-to-school and college clothes together at this time have a right to demand that you get the nicest styles. You have also a duty to investigate the clothes you buy to see that they are also serviceable. Otherwise they won't be charming very long. You must be your own private FBI and go into the private affairs of these new things thoroughly to avoat trouble for yourselves.

Find out about the material of which everything you buy is made. The saleswoman will tell you if you ask, and if they don't know, then you'd better choose something else unless you happen to know yourself. Find out what the inside of a dress, suit, skirt, etc., looks like. It will tell tales about the quality that the outside will not tell.

Good seems, finishing, etc., should be investigated. Don't forget to ask about color and shrinkage possibilities.

Tan Safely With This Suntan Oil

By RUTH MUGGLEBEE

BEFORE WE KNOW IT . . . the summer will be gone . . . we'll be thinking of furs and fall fashions and things akin to cold weather . . . so let us now make the most of every opportunity to bask in the sunshine . . . soak up that golden goodness out where the blue begins.

If you thought the sun was tagged, you're wrong . . . for there is still another month to tan our hides in health-giving goodness . . . to bask in the relaxing loziness of the sun seeking relief from the tension of wartime living . . . and the fatigue of wartime work.

No matter where you are . . . at the seashore . . . in the mountains . . . or at the country . . . even in your own backyard or atop the roof . . . the sun is there to let you soak in its vitamin D, requisite to good health and pep.

KEEP THE SKIN SUPPLE

What the sun does for our body is marvelous . . . but what it does to our complexion should the facial tissues be unprotected from the drying rays of King Sol is another thing. Lift your face to the sun . . . it's good for it . . . but your face will be much better for being protected with an ideal suntan oil . . . an oil to keep the skin supple, healthy, while you tan in Nature's own way . . . achieving a beautiful color, relaxing in the open air, enjoying the glorious sun.

This is such a smooth oil . . . with wonderful tanning properties that have a way of filtering out the burning rays of the sun . . . permitting only the tanning process to take hold of our facial beauty. It is a soothing, inviting oil that does a grand job of bronzing the skin into utter beauty . . . with none of the blistering discomforts. There's no fun in the summer without tanning . . . but tan the safe way . . . the ideal way . . . using a famous name suntan oil as a protective film to keep you from burning.

For the name of this ideal suntan oil, phone the Beauty Dept., L1Berty 4000, or write me, care of the Boston Evening American, inclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

First Impression Of You

When you are introduced to someone, that someone is going to start to think something about you. You have it in your power to direct what that something will be. Call Him 'Robert'

DEAR MRS. BECKMAN: Robert is a boy in our group at school. We all often go to his home, dropping in with him casually after school or when we are invited to parties there. He's "Bob" to all of us, but his mother and father always call him "Robert." The rest of us have been discussing whether or not we should, when we are with his mother and father, address him as "Robert," as they do, or as "Bob" as we always do. My mother and the mothers of two of the other girls think that when we are in his home we should address him as his mother and father do. What do you think?—JANE.

Your mothers are right. You'll be exquisitely courteous if, when you are at his home, you follow the custom of the family and use the "Robert" they obviously prefer to have used. This will please your host and hostess . . . and that is what a guest should do!

DEAR MRS. BECKMAN—soon my son and I will visit at the home of a friend who is living with her mother. Should I take some small gift for my friend and also one for her mother? Or since we are visiting for one day only, is it necessary to take a gift? M. L.

It isn't "necessary" for you to take a gift . . . but it would be nice for you to take some little gift to show your thoughtfulness. How about taking a box of candy, or, if you're a cookie or cake expert, why not take a box of cookies or a cake? Copyright, 1944, King Features Syndicate, Inc.

Smart Set Enjoy Dance Dates

By BETTY ALDEN

ANOTHER POST DEB setting an excellent patriotic example to her friends is pretty Prudence Spencer of Newton Center who has had the novel experience of working for the war effort on both sides of the continent.

Last winter she and her mother went to California and took a house at San Diego in the hopes of visiting occasionally with her brother who is a naval officer in the Pacific. They had no sooner landed than Prudence was employed in a fascinating engineering job at the Naval Air Station.

At present, she is back home on 60-day leave and working as a volunteer at the Children's Hospital while convalescing from an appendectomy, but plans to return to her California job next month.

DAUGHTER of Mrs. H. Thaxter Spencer, Prudence made her debut in '42-'43 following her graduation from Beaver Country Day. Later she took a summer course in engineering at Harvard and worked at Raytheon before going West.

The other evening for dancing with her Army officer date at the cool Copley Plaza Oval Room she wore a cunning gray and black fitted check suit with green soutache braid appliqued on the perky peplum jacket. The same evening debutante Sara Ann Foster came in from Concord to rhumba at the Oval Room with Curt Beck of M. I. T. and wore a trim tango red girdling suit with cool white accessories.

Betsy Furber of Cambridge, whose date was another M. I. T. student, Nick Tullos, danced in a modish yellow and black forsythia print, and Patsy Holloway, squired by Ensign Howard Peterson, USNR, of Seattle, had gardenias pinned to her modish lavender trimmed black evening shortie. Harvardian Arthur S. Biddle of the Windy City beamed sub-deb Marjorie Kehn, who had two spiffy white orchids on her honey-colored dress.

ROUND AND ABOUT — Edith Child Bancroft, post deb daughter of Mr. Guy Bancroft of Boston and Cohasset, is returning today from a vacation in Florida where her Navy fiancé, Ensign C. A. Phillips von Hemert, is stationed. Their engagement was announced recently. Seen daily on the putting greens at the Poland Spring House in Maine are the following Bostonians: Mr. and Mrs. James Tobin, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Rooney, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Walsh of Quincy and Mr. and Mrs. Fred Bailey of West Newton.

Miss Dorothy Jones, chairman of the political committee of the Anna C. Bird department of the Women's Republican Club, will conduct a panel discussion of the Republican platform at a meeting of the group this evening. The program will be preceded by dinner at 6. Taking part in the forum discussion are the Misses Esther Pitcher, Elizabeth King, Lillian Scott and Grace Heath.

3 Cities to Aid Paper Drive

Salvage officials announced today they are counting heavily on the waste paper collection drives in Medford, Somerville and Waltham Sunday to produce a huge amount of scrap paper, now critically needed in the war effort.

City trucks will canvass all homes in the three neighboring cities, and city workers and patriotic citizens will volunteer to help gather the scrap from sidewalks.

The need for salvaging scrap paper has become so acute, John T. Kiley, regional WLB salvage director, has warned, that shoppers may be reduced to the necessity of providing their own containers in stores.

Arlington Club In Ragweed War

Latest step in the home front war effort of the "Wildcat Club," Arlington's 4-H boys, whose leader is H. E. Keenan, 801 Mass. ave., is to enroll en masse as a corps of the Junior Victory Army.

Officers are expected to be chosen soon. Meanwhile the members are living up to their name by clawing and destroying ragweed in the vicinity of their 5000-square foot victory garden in the JVA campaign to eradicate this foe of hay fever and asthma sufferers.

In connection with the Arlington drive there is an exhibit in Keenan's display window showing ragweed and indicating its potential evils.

The corps will use a club work room this winter to make games, cakes and other articles for disabled soldiers.

In the corps are Sonny Bruno, Paul Campbell, Barclay Hayes, David Crowley, Robert and Arthur Foye, Edward Harney, Norman MacNeil, Richard Rockwell, Chick Stay, Horace Trotta, Thomas Clark, Beverly and Richard Keenan and Lee Hayes.

All boys and girls of all organizations are urged to join the JVA drive against ragweed by learning to recognize it and by destroying it whenever and wherever it is found.

To join the JVA, send your name, age and full address to Junior Victory Army, Box 228, Boston, Mass. If in addition to enlistment, you want the JVA insignia pin and membership card, enclose a 10-cent coin well wrapped in your letter.

Read the next JVA story in Friday's Daily Record.

REDUCING TOES

New Vitamin Way Amazes Thousands

It's the "Never Hungry" Lazy Way—and you lose Ugly Fat Quickly and Easily or Money Back!

Would you like to get rid of that ugly fatty fat that spoils your figure and is so annoying? Of course. Everyone does. But now you can reduce without going hungry, without giving up a single type of food—and without resorting to drugs, exercise or dangerous starvation diets.

All you have to do is this. Eat a light breakfast, starting with 2 teaspoons of VEE-MOR in a glass of any fruit juice. Have your regular dinner or supper. But here's the trick. For lunch, however, take 2 teaspoons of VEE-MOR in a glass of fruit or vegetable juice, or any other suitable beverage. With it, if you wish, take a cup of tea or coffee, and that's all. It is pleasant and enjoyable, and it will make you feel better.

The important thing, however, is that it supplies vitamins A, B, D, C and other B complex factors, as well as calcium, phosphorus and strengthening protein in suitable quantities and in a way that keeps you hungry and energetic while burning the food you normally take for lunch.

VEE-MOR keeps the body up its own fat.

Thousands who have tried it are delighted with the way pounds slip away, all without any bother or feeling that you are starving yourself on death. Use VEE-MOR for 10 days. If it doesn't produce satisfactory results, return the unused portion and every penny of your money will be returned.

IT'S FUN TO REDUCE WITH

Reds Charge 150,000 Died in Nazi Hospital

MOSCOW, Aug. 3 (AP)—The Ukraine state atrocities committee charged today that 150,000 patients died in a German hospital at Slavuta, about 160 miles west of Kiev, during the two years of Nazi occupation.

The committee charged German doctors intentionally spread infectious diseases by herding new patients at gunpoint into a room where 1800 were already dying of typhoid and tuberculosis.

C Trainer Come on Visit

Capt. Brenda B. Boynton of Lindsey St., Dorchester, who has charge of the physical fitness of 77,000 members of the Women's Army Corps, today is on an inspection tour of the Corps in the New England area, her first visit to Boston in many months.

A Boston University graduate, Capt. Boynton is physical training director at Fort Oglethorpe, Ga., the largest WAC training center in the nation and to which all New England WAC recruits are assigned for basic training.

Capt. Boynton studied at Boston's Bouve School of Physical Education before graduation from B. U. in 1941 with a master's degree. She was in Germany in 1939 and was en route home on the Queen Mary when war broke out. Enlisting in the WAC as soon as that organization was authorized, she was a member of the first officer candidate class at Fort Des Moines, Ia.

Keith's 'Marine Raiders'

Absorbing War Story

By PEGGY DOYLE

There is a realistic quality about Keith Memorial's "Marine Raiders," during both its romantic and documentary moments, that raises this all-fiction tale into the top brackets as an absorbing story.

It is no "Gung Ho!" the story of Evan Carlson's raiders, mind you, nor does it presume, or pretend to be. It is an absorbing look-see into the training and expansion of the Marines to a force of 500,000. It contains some deftly spliced-in government clips of the Guadalcanal landing by the First Marine Raiders battalion and their establishment of the initial beach-head. It has a sudden, believable love story with a strictly GI rather than a gooey Hollywood accent. It is possessed of some swell comedy sequences.

Getting personal with its cast, everyone does a slick job. Pat O'Brien, its star, underplays a tough, warm-hearted commanding officer of the paramarines with a skill that makes passes at an Oscar award. Robert Ryan, the dark, rangy, likeable young man you applauded in "Tender Comrade" and the Pat O'Brien-starring "Iron Major," and now one of Uncle Sam's hellbent Marines, impersonates O'Brien's executive officer like he means it.

He and Ruth Hussey, wearing the uniform of the Women's Australian Air Corps with dignity as well as mouth-watering charm, discover they are in love overnight, and so refreshingly direct and adult are they about it you believe every syllable of it.

Other Irishmen among the featured players who cover themselves with glory are the comedy-providing Frank McHugh and Earlean MacLane. McHugh, the battalion's imperturbably merry chef who has a penchant for overpeppering the stew, is endlessly heckled by MacLane to the rest of the outfit's . . . and the customers' . . . roaring enjoyment.

Throughout the story, which moves from the South Pacific to Australia, back to the U.S.A. and out to battle again, Harold Schuster's direction keeps the going at a fast and entertaining pace.

After viewing this one, with its complete lack of lug, the humaneness of its characterizations and the breath-stopping realism of its battle scenes, it is quite understandable why the Marine Corps, the Navy, the Coast Guard and the Army (which is also represented in this salute to the Marines) generously co-operated with Producer Robert Fellows in its making.

Screen Bills

Cecil B. De Mille's spectacular wartime drama, "The Story of Dr. Wassell," remains for a second week on Paramount and Fenway screens . . . The film, which has been doing tremendous business in its second-run showing at the M & P twin theaters, was suggested by President Roosevelt's personal recognition of the battlefield heroism of the Arkansas doctor in a farside chat . . . Gary Cooper plays the title role.

"Show Business," the Eddie Cantor-geared inside story of the burlesque-to-the-Follies step-up with Cantor, George Murphy, Joan Davis and Constance Moore, is now showing at the Modern Theater . . . The co-feature is "Yellow Canary," with Anna Neagle and Richard Greene.

The Fredric March-Alexis Smith, starring Warner production, "Adventures of Mark Twain," is the current invitation to Washington St. Olympia and Scollay Theaters' attendance . . . Sharing the bill is "It Happened Tomorrow."

SENATOR LODGE of World War I, as recreated by the distinguished stage and screen actor, Sir Cedric Hardwicke, with the assistance of 20th Century-Fox's able makeup department, will be seen in "Wilson," most significant film of our time. World premiered on Broadway the other night, it is expected to follow "Song of Bernadette" into the Majestic.

Tomorrow, a merry night-havens dealing with tomorrow's war-born headlines, Dick Powell, Linda Darnell and Jack Oakie share the fun.

Laughs With Screen Drama

Irish eyes are smiling, but not all the time in "Leave It to the Irish" at the Trans-Lux. For with James Dunn as the astute sleuth, there are nevertheless more murders than on the day of the Easter rebellion.

Even with Detective O'Brien's right-eyed daughter, Wanda McKay, to help him track down the killers, it's a long and arduous job. First of all, Barbara Woodell calls in our James to solve murder No. 1. Her husband, a wealthy fur dealer, has been found mysteriously slain.

Everybody meets, as they always do in these stock who-dunits, at a night club, where the big boss is up to his trickery and waltzers sneak around furtively with whispered messages.

Then, of course, there's a gloomy warehouse, and another murder, and finally the owner of the Black Swan (Jack LaRue) meets his untimely end, and Jimmy gets accused of the crime.

It seems that everybody had good reason to kill everybody else, but hero and heroine find love, and there are plenty of laughs.

Picarillo Named Racing Secretary

By JACK CONWAY

JAMES PICARILLO has been appointed Racing Secretary for the racing which will be held at the Marshfield, Brockton and Great Barrington Fairs. He acted in a similar capacity at Northampton and Great Barrington last season.

Picarillo is also associated with Fausco, and has made a careful study of the half-milers.

Jim Picarillo
acting secretary at Rockingham Park, for Northampton.

I talked with Picarillo at Rockingham Park, and he is enthusiastic about the outlook for half-mile racing at the Massachusetts Fair circuit.

"We shall have the services of some top jockeys," said Picarillo. "It is a special attraction to a long rider at a half-mile track. Many of the star jockeys at the mile tracks would not get anywhere on the half-mile circuit. They would not take the risks on the turns so necessary if one is to be a star at the half-mile tracks."

"We shall have more horses than ever for the Massachusetts Fairs due to the sharp step-up in courses. There will be $80,000 in purses at the four Fairs."

"Some of the horses that will race at Marshfield on opening day, Aug. 29, are already in training at the Brockton Fair Grounds. Many new horses will ship in from Canada and from Maryland. We shall also get some horses from the Middle West."

The Fair dates have been approved by the Massachusetts Racing Commission. Marshfield will operate from Aug. 29 through Sept. 4, Northampton will open on Sept. 4 and continue through Sept. 9, Brockton will open on Sept. 11 and end its meeting on Sept. 16. The Great Barrington Fairs are from Sept. 18 through Sept. 23.

Ames' Mother Dies

THE MANY friends of Billy Ames, publicity director of Narragansett Park, feel deeply for him in the loss of his mother who passed on at the age of 88 at the home of her daughter in London, England.

Mrs. Ames lived in London through the blitz and through the robot bombing. She exemplified the courage of the England people who refused to be terrorized by the Nazis.

Billy Ames says that his mother turned down all attempts to have her move her residence to a place that was more remote from the horrors of modern warfare than London, but, like a real soldier, she refused to do so. She probably felt that if she did move that it would be an admission she was afraid of the Nazis.

Mrs. Ames will be in the suburbs of London, the city she loved, in death. One must admire the courage and love of country displayed by this grand old lady during her long life.

Billy Ames has reason to be proud he possessed such a mother.

Random Shots at Target

KLEIG LIGHT likes the heavy going at Rockingham Park, and was never better than he was as he won the first race to pay $15.20.

Night Editor was fortunate to get through on the rail to win the second race. . . . Mack's Dream displayed amazing early speed, and still had plenty of run through the stretch as he tried to fight off the late surge of Night Editor.

Snow Maid, a 2-year-old filly, came with a terrific rush through the stretch to win. . . . It is seldom that a 2-year-old is able to finish

Youth Kills 3-Point Buck

SANTA CRUZ, Cal., Aug. 3 (AP) — Twelve-year-old Ray Berger got a three-point, 159-pound buck on the opening day of the deer season yesterday.

He used a rifle longer than he is—and bagged a buck that weighed more than twice as much as he does.

as fast as did Snow Maid. Herb Trent took Ellen Mist out front shortly after the break and won much as he pleased. . . . It was hardly a contest.

Dave Wilson's choice, Plane Spotter, upset the dope to win and pay $18.40. . . . Cane, the favorite, finished second as Dave said he would, while Dark Cloud, named to finish third by Wilson, ended up that way.

Misflying, Wilson's best bet, ran a perfect race to win, while Star runner gave the regular players a chance to cash in with some heavy win tickets.

Navy Yard and Linehans Meet

The two rivals, Navy Yard and Linehan Club, get together tonight at Columbus Park in another one of their regular derby battles as the Park League plays its second to last night of the regular season.

The Navy has clinched first place and the Linehans will finish third regardless of tonight's outcome, but the stars of the derby will be played as each is eager to win.

Jim Daly, one of the most consistent winners in the loop, will start on the mound for the Navy Yard and Mgr. Benson will start either Tony Settimo or Joe McKinney.

At Dorchester Town Field second place Dick Casey Club plays host to the slumping Arsenal in the only other game scheduled for tonight. The Arsenal has been going badly lately, but if Will Jackman can take his regular turn tonight he'll give the Caseys a real battle.

The former ace of the Colored Giants has had a whammy on the Dorchester club all year and if he's right he may take them again. The Caseys have been traveling along at a fast clip and have second place all sewed up but Manager Dick Casey wants to win this one and he'll send Don Donald after the victory.

Red Sox Prepared for Their Final Pennant Bid

By FRED HOEY

Whether the Red Sox will win the 1944 American League pennant will be pretty definitely established over the next 21-game home stay of the boys at Fenway Park.

Still five and one-half games away from the pace-making St. Louis Browns, the Sox have an excellent chance to chop that margin to bits.

Tomorrow the Washington Senators blow in for a double-header at Fenway Park. Although the Senators dropped 15 of the 16 games played in the West, it is risky to hold this club too cheaply. It would be tough luck if these Cubanitos, South Americans and others, rose in their wrath and knocked the Sox for a goal. Those things do happen in baseball, though.

The Red Sox played fine ball in the West. It wasn't so much the 9-6 record, after dropping four of the five to the Yanks, but the fight, the hustle and general uplift the team generated that makes this recent trip notable for its results.

Some of those ball games the Sox dropped in the West might easily have been on the right side of the ledger with a break here or there. Even in those losing games the Sox were fighting to the bitter end. A swell sign.

From a strictly baseball viewpoint the most amazing feature of this trip to your pinch-hitting observer was the fact that the Sox have been able to weather the storms without a southpaw pitcher. We can't recall any like instance in our 40 years of association with baseball.

Without a southpaw the Sox have been constantly fed left handed batters on the hostile side. This is not so good if you expect to get anywhere.

NEED A SOUTPAW

That the Red Sox have been able to overcome this terrific handicap and carry on is a grand tribute to the managerial genius of Joe Cronin and the fine morale of his players.

In the long history of baseball no team ever has won a pennant without the services of a southpaw pitcher. To be sure, in some World Series a couple of right-handed pitchers might knock off the title, but in the long run down the stretch a team must and should have a left handed pitcher.

Tom Judd, the only southpaw on the Sox payroll, has been laid up for most of the season with a lame arm. A total loss so far, Tom has had his tonsils removed.

If Judd could return to his normal form, it would be duck soup for the Sox. In fact, any reliable southpaw in there would have put the Sox so far out front that Miss May Cadigan and Hi Mason would now be filling out World Series applications.

Which brings to mind one Lefty Dreserwerd of the Sacramento Club. This baby is coming to the Red Sox. Make no mistake about that. This withholding information beneficial to the enemy doesn't apply to the Red Sox, although one might be compelled to feel that way about the manner in which this Dreserwerd case is being handled by the Sox office.

Judd is a gamble even without his tonsils. Dreserwerd is an established left hander of merit. If the Sox are going to acquire him we would suggest they adopt that

Oneyville Sends Crack Swimmers

Rhode Island's outstanding swimming clubs—Oneyville and Wanskuck—have filed entries for the Record-American-Sunday Advertiser-Boston Park Department Championship Swimming Meet to be held Sunday afternoon at the South Boston Yacht Club at 2 p. m.

This meet will be held in conjunction with the Mass. Youth Committee which will be responsible for four events on a highly interesting program of 19 events.

Six members from each club will be going after titles in the trio of New England AAAU events, added features of the card. Louise Sherlock and Dorothy Blanchflower, Oneyville, will go after the 100-meters junior breaststroke crown; and both will double up, with Ann Franklin, in the 100-meters junior freestyle event. Joe Baciowski, Joe Turrone and Matt Lojko, completing the Oneyville list, will go in the one-mile senior race.

Wanskuck's entries include Jean and Joan Senior in the breaststroke; Stella Tanike and Marion Senior in the freestyle and Joseph Pratt and John Masso in the one-mile.

16 OTHER EVENTS, TOO

Sixteen other events on the program will be finals of a series of eliminations held last month with over 200 qualifiers spread over the field.

These will include 25-yards freestyle and backstroke tests for 10-11 year old youngsters who have learned to swim this summer and this past winter through the Mass. Youth Committee and this paper's Learn To Swim campaign.

Other events list 25-yards freestyle and backstroke for 12-13 year olds; 50-yards freestyle, backstroke and breaststroke for 14-15 year olds and 200-yards freestyle relays for all ages.

Sox Scout Reports Ivory Pickings Poor

MEMPHIS, Aug. 3 (AP)—Big league baseball apparently is going to survive the war, but there's beginning to be some doubt about the scouts.

"It's pretty rough sailing," said Red Sox Operative Hank Severeid today between spying operations. "We're scouts with nothing to scout."

"This year I've spied on everything from grandfathers making comebacks to third-basing sergeants and 16-year-old sandloters still damp behind the ears. I'll be lucky to send a couple of players to the Red Sox at the close of the year."

JUST FILL-INS

And if there are a couple, the old American League catcher has to say, they'll probably be mediocre fellows just to fill some wartime gaps.

"And normally a scout would have a 20 or if he couldn't recommend 20 or 30 promising ball players to his club," he moaned. "Severeid, who caught more than 2600 games in his 28 years behind the plate, described current scouting headaches."

"There are only about 12 leagues now where there used to be 40-odd. Not only that, but most of the minor clubs have major league attachments and the good men you run across are already sewed up."

PICKINGS POOR

"We scout the service camps, but you can't sign soldiers and sailors, you know, and those 16 and 17-year-olds we find are in V programs or have their sights set on fighting. There just aren't any baseball pickings these days. "While we can't sign up the good boys we see in Army camps and those teen-age youngsters, we can keep notes on them, and that's exactly what we're doing. They'll be available some day."

"Most of our scouting work is on a 'future reference' basis, you might say, and the fact that most major league clubs right now are adding to their scouting staffs rather than chopping them is proof enough that we're earning our pay."

2 Ex-Major Leaguers On South Team Roster

MEXICO CITY, Aug. 3 (AP)—Two former U. S. major leaguers—Chico Hernandez and Chile Gomez—are included on the roster of the South team which will meet the northern division nine in a Mexican Baseball League all-star game Aug. 15.

The North squad includes 10 Mexicans, seven Cubans and a Venezuelan, and on the South squad are 10 Mexicans, six Cubans and two U. S. Negroes.

Marine Heroes To Gather Here

Two years ago next Monday the 1st Division of the United States Marines landed on Guadalcanal, among them a large number of New England fighting men. The first reunion, perhaps the last of these Marines will be held at the Hotel Gardner, Massachusetts ave., next Monday night. Many are stationed here. Others are on leave.

Sgt. Eugene Callahan of West Newton and Herbert Flanagan of West Boston are making an effort to reach the wounded and honorably discharged veterans of that campaign who are in this area. "The reunion won't be complete unless they are there," remarks Callahan. He can be reached at 16 Williams st., West Newton, or Lawrence 5508.

Denver University Back in League

LARAMIE, Wyo., Aug. 3 (AP)—The Mountain States Intercollegiate Ass'n, known to the fans as the Big Seven, has voted to accept Denver University again in the league.

At a meeting yesterday there was a rollcall on plans to field football teams. Denver, Utah, Colorado and Utah State and "yes," Colorado Aggies and Wyoming signed "maybe" and Brigham Young said "not this year."

JOE NO DE MAR

Joe Cronin is directing his team from the bench. Joe is most valuable as a pinch hitter, but Joe stops there. Let Joe carry on that way. It gets results. We don't want to see Joe pull a Clarence DeMar and hang on forever. His past record is too good. He's too fine a fellow.

The recent trip of the Red Sox was so chock full of outstanding deeds that it is almost impossible to rate them in their proper order. First of all was the grand hitting of Old Pete Fox who certainly delivered in handsome fashion. Bobby Doerr slipped a bit at stages of the trip but his bat was a very potent factor in many of the wins. Bobby's fielding was spectacular all the way.

The catching was magnificently handled by Hal Wagner and Roy Partee. Wagner contributed no little to the offensive sock the Red Sox furnished. Partee, that dependable little fellow who made that outstanding hop from a Class B Portsmouth, Va., Peimont League team to the big league, gave further proof that Joe Cronin had picked up a catching star of the first magnitude.

Tex Hughton's Nuf Ced. As one commentator aptly stated the Sox would be strictly second division without Big Tex.

This twin bill tomorrow with the Senators is the start of a campaign which will either make or break the Sox. That Brownie lead can be cut down.

Bill Grimes, your Boston American baseball expert, will be right on the ball for the next 21 days to give you the real lowdown on this thrilling American League race. Bill, to my mind, is Boston's leading baseball expert. He knows his stuff. So don't miss him from day to day in the Boston American.

Meanwhile, your observer will train his long distance binoculars on the developments of the Braves' out in the hinterlands, their trials, tribulations and victories, if any.
